Animals to spot

The pictures in this section show animals living all around the world. In each picture there are lots of different kinds of animals for you to find and count. The example pages below show what you need to do to find them all.

This amazing underwater scene is on pages 18-19.

Each little picture shows you what to look for in the big picture.

The blue number tells you how many of that animal you need to spot.

This is Leo the artist. He draws animals everywhere he goes. See if you can spot his drawing pad and pencil in each scene.

On pages 34 and 35 there are two more puzzles for you to do.

Close-ups

Have you found all 1001 animals? Here is another game for you to play. These circles show close-ups of animals from earlier in the book. Using the clues, can you name each animal?

Whose stripes are these?

Which animal has just one long tusk?

Who has a blue tongue like this?

Which animal looks like a striped horse?

Whose powerful antlers are these?

Whose tail feathers look like eyes?

Which bird has bright feathers like these?

Whose trumpeting trunk is this?

Which orange striped fish has a funny name?

Which hopping insect has legs like these?

Which fish has green and yellow stripes?

Which animal has a very long neck?

Things to spot

The pictures in this section show scenes from long ago. You can see a Viking ship, visit an Egyptian pharaoh's court and explore a busy market from 4,000 years ago. On every page there are lots of things for you to find and count.

This tells you when and where the scene took place. You can see this castle feast on pages 114-115.

Each little picture shows you what to look for in the big picture.

The blue number shows how many of that thing you need to find.

There are lots of other things to spot scattered throughout this section of the book. You can find out what you need to do to find them on pages 130 and 131.

There's a spider like this one hidden in each big picture. Can you find them all?

The Usborne Big Book of Things to Spot

Crammed with thousands of things to find, count and talk about, this bright and busy picture book provides hours of puzzle-solving fun, and also helps develop pre-reading and number skills. There are rainforest animals to search for, a bustling market town to explore, a castle feast to enjoy,
and much, much more.
